Marcel Lehnert

About Elias Winkler:

Marcel and Elias were both present at Elena's office at 09:00, reviewing the data leak draft together, yet neither showed concern for Elena's safety during the gala, suggesting a coordinated silence about the danger.

About Lena Hirsch:

Marcel was seen in the dessert room after the murder, but Lena was furious and refused to help, creating a rift - Marcel's calm demeanor during the attack contrasts with Lena's outburst, implying he may have orchestrated the event.

Lena Hirsch

About Marcel Lehnert:

Lena witnessed Marcel and Elias reviewing the data leak at 09:00, yet later accused them of being complicit - she refused to help Elena, possibly hiding her knowledge of the leak's contents or the plot to kill her.

About Sophie von Böhm:

Lena was seen arguing with Sophie during the meal, yet Sophie remained calm and supportive of Elena - Lena's anger toward Sophie suggests a motive to discredit her, possibly to cover up the killer's identity.

Otto Kühn

About Hans Gies:

Otto met Elena at the harbor at 14:00, but Hans Gies was present at the gala with no prior connection - Hans was seen in the dessert room alone, suggesting he may have slipped into the room unnoticed during the meal.

About Lina Schmitt:

Otto was at the harbor with Elena, yet Lina Schmitt was present at the gala - Lina's calm support of Elena contrasts with Otto's silent presence, implying he may have known the truth behind the murder.

Sophie von Böhm

About Lina Schmitt:

Sophie was seen cheering Elena during the meal, yet Lina Schmitt was absent from the dessert room - Sophie's support contrasts with Lina's presence, suggesting a possible motive to frame Lina as the killer.

About Elias Winkler:

Sophie was at the gala with Elena, yet Elias Winkler was seen with Marcel reviewing the data leak - Sophie's calm demeanor contrasts with Elias's reserved nature, suggesting he may have known the truth behind the murder.
