

Character Sheet: Hans Schmidt

Case

Location:

Kiel, a small coastal town famous for its naval history and boat-building traditions

Victim Name:

Erik von Hagen

Summary:

During the annual Kiel Week celebration, Erik von Hagen was found dead during dinner aboard his yacht. The Red Berry Pudding served at the meal is believed to have contained a toxic substance, linking the murder to corruption in the maritime industry where he had long-standing conflicts.

Timeline:

The crime took place around midnight on the evening of August 12th, as guests were finishing their dessert during the Kiel Week celebration dinner.

Victim Description:

42, marine engineer, known for his controversial views on shipbuilding standards

Character Details

Name:

Hans Schmidt

Appearance:

A burly man with a weathered face, his hands calloused from years at sea.

Occupation:

Shipwright

Relation To Victim:

Competitor

Personality Traits:

- strong-willed - tenacious

Background:

Erik's competitor in the shipbuilding industry, he had a history of conflicts with Erik over market share.

[doc1]

Murderer Label:

No

Image Path:

image_tool/image_output\Hans_S chmidt.png