

Victim's Last Day

Overview

Elara Voss's last day centered around a high-stakes botanical gala where she clashed with key figures over her protest against corporate appropriation of native flora. Her death occurred during dessert, with a poisoned berry pudding spoon and an overturned chair, coinciding with the exhibit's unveiling. The curator, sponsor, and event planner were all involved in the controversy, leaving a trail of tension and missing persons.

Timeline

09:00 @ Kiel Botanical Garden's main building

Elara and her collaborators met to finalize protest posters for the upcoming exhibit, emphasizing the ethical use of native plants. The group discussed the corporate funding and planned their critique for the gala.

Participants: Elara Voss, Sophia Vogel, Lina Müller

Suspicious: No

14:00 @ Kiel Botanical Garden's main building

Elara confronted Dr. Hartmann about the exhibit's design, which she claimed misappropriated local flora. Their argument escalated into a heated exchange, with Elara demanding transparency.

Participants: Elara Voss, Dr. Lena Hartmann

Suspicious: No

16:00 @ Kiel Botanical Garden's main building

Marcus Kiefer met Elara privately to discuss the exhibit's funding. She questioned his motives, and he allegedly assured her the exhibit was 'not a commercial exploitation.'

Participants: Elara Voss, Marcus Kiefer

Suspicious: No

18:00 @ Kiel Botanical Garden's main building

Isabella, the event planner, met Elara for a private discussion about the gala's schedule. Elara expressed concern about the exhibit's timing and asked for more time to prepare protest materials.

Participants: Elara Voss, Isabella von Kiel

Suspicious: No

19:30 @ Kiel Botanical Garden's gala dining room

Guests arrived for the gala. Elara was seen arguing with Dr. Hartmann, who was later reported missing from the event. The tension was high, with Elara's protest posters visible on the table.

Participants: Elara Voss, Dr. Lena Hartmann, Elias Rost, Isabella von Kiel

Suspicious: Yes

20:00 @ Kiel Botanical Garden's gala dining room

Elara was seated at the table, arguing with Dr. Hartmann. Marcus Kiefer joined the discussion, and Sophia and Lina were present, visibly supportive of Elara's stance. The group's tension peaked.

Participants: Elara Voss, Dr. Lena Hartmann, Marcus Kiefer, Sophia Vogel, Lina Müller

Suspicious: Yes

20:45 @ Kiel Botanical Garden's gala dining room

The dessert course began, and Elara was served a sugar-coated berry pudding. Her chair was overturned, and the spoon remained in her hand. Guests claimed she was arguing over floral rights.

Participants: Elara Voss, Dr. Lena Hartmann, Marcus Kiefer, Sophia Vogel, Lina Müller

Suspicious: Yes

21:00 @ Kiel Botanical Garden's gala dining room

Elara was found dead at the table. Her protest posters were visible, and the berry pudding spoon remained in her hand. Dr. Hartmann was later reported missing from the event.

Participants: Elara Voss, Dr. Lena Hartmann, Marcus Kiefer, Sophia Vogel, Lina Müller

Suspicious: Yes