

Character Sheet: Captain Andreas Müller

Case

Location:

Kiel, a small coastal town famous for its naval history and boat-building traditions

Victim Name:

Erik von Hagen

Summary:

During the annual Kiel Week celebration, Erik von Hagen was found dead during dinner aboard his yacht. The Red Berry Pudding served at the meal is believed to have contained a toxic substance, linking the murder to corruption in the maritime industry where he had long-standing conflicts.

Timeline:

The crime took place around midnight on the evening of August 12th, as guests were finishing their dessert during the Kiel Week celebration dinner.

Victim Description:

42, marine engineer, known for his controversial views on shipbuilding standards

Character Details

Name:

Captain Andreas Müller

Appearance:

A tall, muscular man in his early forties, with a no-nonsense demeanor.

Occupation:

Yacht captain

Relation To Victim:

Friend

Personality Traits:

- determined - loyal

Background:

Captain of Erik's yacht, he was deeply loyal to his friend and would do anything for him. [doc2]

Murderer Label:

No

Image Path:

image_tool/image_output\Captai n_Andreas_Müller.png